- Please pray the Litany for the Souls in Purgatory during November. Here is why.

Q. Why do Catholics pray for the dead?

A. If Catholics pray for those still on earth, why not continue to pray for them after they die? Some Christians would reply that immediately after death, you go directly to heaven or to hell. If you're in heaven, you have no need of prayers. If you're in hell, prayers will do you no good. In short, they don't pray for the dead because they don't believe, as Catholics do, in purgatory.

What exactly is purgatory? The Catechism says, "All who die in God's grace and friendship, but still imperfectly purified, are indeed assured of their eternal salvation; but after death they undergo purification, so as to achieve the holiness necessary to enter the joy of heaven. The Church gives the name Purgatory to this final purification (1030-1031).

Sacred Scripture and Tradition affirm that God's ultimate intention is for us to become perfect, as He is perfect, to become like Him so that we can know, love, and enjoy Him fully in heaven forever (see Matthew 5:48, Hebrews 12:14; 1 John 3:2-3). In fact, heaven simply wouldn't be heaven unless those who lived there had been perfected. If we were to bring along with us all the sins and weaknesses we have in this life, we would be just as miserable in heaven as we are on earth — for all eternity!

This process has already begun in our lives on earth. Through doing penance and accepting in faith the inescapable sufferings of this life, we can be purged of sin's effects and grow in holiness. Nevertheless, few seem to be perfect when they leave this world.. They still need some purification, a painful but purging "fire," as Scripture calls it (see 1 Corinthians 3:14-15).

"Charity is that with which no man is lost, and without which no man is saved."
